

Thank you very much to all for doing that our parties have been the whole success.

Thanks to the establishments collaborators and to all the neighbors who have given his collaboration in order that one could have fulfilled the same ones. Thank you, also, to all those who have spent to themselves for the parties someone of the days in which they have been celebrated, thanks to them we could have seen the beach full of people enjoying the sardines and the music. Thanks to all those who took part somehow in the celebration of the same ones, and specially to those who helped us disinterestedly to that our sardines were exquisite.

The strip is very high, but we will try to do a few better parties for the whole world next year.

Certainly, we are preparing a few photos in order that you see what they were the parties.
